C.A.S.F. VOTE FAILS UPSET ELECTIONS

Fifty Per Cent Of Soldier Vote Goes To N.G. Candidates

Not One Single Turnover Reported As Ballots Added To Civilian Total—

56,942 Votes Cast

OTTAWA, April 2.—Without causing a single turnover among the civilian voters, 50 per cent of Canada's soldiers, sailors and airmen in the general election were added today to civilian totals in 244 seats. Returns were announced here by Jules Castonguay, chief electoral officer.

The Active Service vote favored the National government candidates of Hon. R. J. Mairion, but the most dramatic overturning triumph scored by the Liberals whose return to power was confirmed on the basis of the civilian vote a few hours after the polls were open.

The army, navy and air force, at home and overseas, polled a total of 56,942 votes. About 30,000 members of the Canadian Active Service Force were eligible to vote. Apparently, many stayed in their home communities and did not vote.

Budget Of Expenditures Totalling $4,643,102 Passed By Aldermanic Body For the Year

"Somewhere in England" Canadian soldiers cast abstain ballots for the Canadian general election which returned the Liberal government of Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King to office. New Rivers, a former Liberal, cast his ballot and held their election three hours early from March 14 to March 23. The result of the soldier vote is not known.

They were to have voted in the general election.

But the general election result was unchanged with Prime Minister Mackenzie King's following in the lead. In the Canadian election, the Conservatives were in a dead heat with the Liberals in one constituency—Acadia in Alberta—still doubtful, the Alberta seat of 173 members undecided.

EXPENDITURES ON RELIEF TO BE GIVEN CUT

Maximum Sum Likely To Be Fixed For Jobless Aid

BY RONALD DEXTER
Edmonton Journal Correspondent
OTTAWA, April 2.—While the government has made no final decision, it has been decided as a matter of general policy that Dominion expenditures on unemployment relief will be sharply reduced in the fiscal year which opens Monday.

In the year now ending, expenditures on direct relief and various relief projects ran close to $50,000,000 of which about $35,000,000 was spent through the department of labour.

So far as relief projects are concerned it is most unlikely that any new commitments will be made unless they dovetail into the war program. With respect to direct relief, Hon. H. C. G. Green, minister of labour, in the past few days that the Dominion government will continue to pay 90 per cent of the cost but will fix a maximum which will be exceeded.

Behind this statement it is learned, is a determination to cut direct relief expenditures in two. This would save Ottawa about $13,000,000 per year. There are then to be cut to a third, or even a fourth, the amounts on the provinces and municipalities. Ottawa and Quebec are likely to be spared, while the rest of the country will be hit.

The complete civilian vote

had been cast by April 1.

WOODSWORTH WINS

There were other big finishes, notably in Quebec, where J. S. Woodsworth, veteran C.C.F. leader, scraped under the wire to win his seat of Laurier over A. R. Macdonald, Liberal.

The complete civilian vote

had been cast by April 1.

Chamberlain Says Allied Powers Have Decided To Go Limit In Economic Warfare On Germany

By WALLACE CARROLL

British United Press Exclusive Cable To The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, April 2.—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain warned Europe's neutrals today that the Allied powers have decided to go to the limit in their economic war against Germany and that aid to the Reich might "render them the tools of the Hitlerites to the hideous fate" of past victims of Adolf Hitler's destructive policies.

When all returns are in, it is understood the situation will be examined with a view to freezing the amount of aid given to Germany, and that aid to the Reich might "render them the tools of the Hitlerites to the hideous fate" of past victims of Adolf Hitler's

REFORM M.P. OF SASKATOON DIES IN EAST

Rev. Walter G. Brown, III
Since Jan. 25, Passes
Monday

OTTAWA, April 2—Rev. Walter George Brown, United Reform candidate in Saskatoon city in the Dominion election whose re-election to the House of Commons was indicated by the Toronto Daily Star, died yesterday.

Mr. Brown, in poor health, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. N. H. Grace. He had stayed with his daughter since his wife died after winning a by-election, he took his seat in the House of Commons as one of the 100 members of the Canadian parliament.

DID NOT CAMPAIGN

The excitement of the campaign, all reports said, had not been felt during the recent campaign was not sufficiently recovered to campaign in his riding of Saskatoon.

Mr. Brown had supported the defeated Liberal and Social Credit National Unity opponents to be the lone United Reform member-elect.

Mr. Brown was successful in his first attempt to gain a House of Commons seat, but his bid had not been successful during the recent campaign was not sufficiently recovered to campaign in his riding of Saskatoon.

BORN IN QUEBEC

Mr. Brown was born at Athelstan Quay, and educated at Huntington Academy, McGill University, and Presbyterian College, Montreal. In 1909 he married Rev. Andrew Brown, daughter of Rev. Andrew Brown of Athelstan, and they had four children.

On Jan. 18, 1932 he was moderator of the Presbyterian church and in 1932 was moderator of the United Church of Canada church to the diamond jubilee celebration of mission in Japan. He was a member of the Canadian Club and the Institute of International Affairs.

Member Known As "Red Deer" Brown

SASKATOON, April 2—Rev. W. G. Brown, member of parliament for Saskatoon and former moderator of the United Church in Canada who died in Ottawa Monday in his 64th year, was known as "Red Deer" Brown, a name he acquired while preaching at a Red Deer, Alta., for 18 years.

During his pastoral career he won many honors and several scholarships and attained the degree of LL.B. at the University of McGill, special studies in history and the principles of socialism.

RESPECTED IN CANADA

On graduation from the theological seminary he was selected for missionary work in the lumber camps of northern Ontario where he demonstrated his ability to speak fluently and efficiently to command the respect of the hard-living lumberjacks.

Mr. Brown served as a mission service in one of the British Columbia's toughest mining camps and was known as a man who could stand the rough and ready group of men who made up the camp.

His third and last was Red Deer where he served 15 years and earned the title of "Red Deer Brown," a name which gave him particular pleasure.

Mr. Brown's church was built by his widow, three daughters, Helen, high school teacher in Saskatoon, Janice, a teacher in Victoria, B.C., and Mrs. N. H. Grace of Ottawa, and a son, Dr. Jack Brown, of Doddsdale, Ont.

TRANS-SHIPPING
THROUGH RUSSIA
MAY BE HALTED

PARKS, April 2—House News Agency, in a dispatch from London, quoted reliable circles last night as saying that Soviet Russia has informed the British government that it will not to tranship Russian imports to Germany.

The dispatch said Russia's conciliatory attitude was based on a desire to avoid any kind of conflict with the Allies, particularly economic strain.

Possibility of Allied intervention in the Far East, was said, was causing concern in Moscow.

The same sources emphasized, the dispatch said, that Allies had no intention of releasing Soviet vessels now held in the Far East or otherwise modifying their attitude to a Soviet Moscovite, the country's good-will is demonstrated.

JOHANNESBURG, S.A., April 2—After living two years in the Transvaal, South Africa, and South Africa, with the most primitive tribesmen in the Union, the Bushmen, the 18-year-old orphan lad is preparing to go back into civilization life.

While in the desert he learned to shoot bows with bow and poisoned arrows, he ate snake meat and scorpions, and he had advanced knowledge of the Bushmen he had since the Voortrekker pioneers more than a century ago.

David Petrus, a black-faced Ter-blaesche is the orphan boy's name, and he is learning to be a blacksmith, a carpenter, a hunter, a Malaria killer, his mother and father, and then his brother and his wife, and he is learning to speak Afrikaans and English.

Petrus decided to run away into the desert. His story was told while training in the Transvaal, and he is about to malaria in the Johannesburg General hospital.

THIS IS FOOLISH

Petrus weighed only 80 pounds and was only four feet ten inches in height when he entered the hospital. He has black hair and wide green eyes and is extraordinarily swift in his movements. He is a black-faced Ter-blaesche.

When the doctor saw him, Petrus had a fever of 104 degrees. The Standard VI, class before running away.

He speaks Afrikaans and English as well as six native dialects and is at home in the clocks and guns of the Bushmen and the Transvaal.

When the doctor saw him, Petrus had a fever of 104 degrees. The Standard VI, class before running away.

Up to the time he came to Johannesburg Petrus had never seen a film, never used a telephone, and had never seen a newspaper, reading account of radio, which he first heard on farm at Windhoek, where he lived after his mother died.

When the farmer took him in, Petrus, light-brown hair, had a fever of 104 degrees, had a bad cold and was sick with diarrhoea.

"My parents, my sisters, and brothers are all dead," he said, "and I have no one to care for me."

"They are gone, but I have the love of my people, the Kaffirs," he said. "I have a home in the Kaffir village. I was wearing a shirt and trousers but no shoes."

Up to the time he came to Johannesburg Petrus had never met with his bows and arrows. I have no one to care for me," he said.

Petrus said that after two years of living with the Kaffirs he was signed by a farmer, Mr. Lewis, of Elandstrand, near Windhoek. The Bushmen, he said, are a hardy race, and they were so fast. At times they carried me. Today I can't walk without a stick."

"Scant Immediate Prospect"

What Mr. Sumner Welles learned in Europe the world is not to know until the time comes to build a treaty of peace. He received no peace proposals from any source, and there is "scant immediate prospect" of the war coming to an end.

This is the substance of what President Roosevelt told the press after talking with his fact-hunting ambassador to the older continent. And this is as much as anyone expected him to say. Speculation as to what information Mr. Welles was able to gather idle, can do no good to the cause of national security, and might do considerable harm by arousing vain expectations. It is to be hoped the professional guessers will turn their attention to some other subject.

The tragic fact is that peace is impossible with Hitler and his bullies representing Germany. Their word is worthless. Germany's neighbors could put no confidence in any treaty to which they set their hands. Their credit has been long since exhausted. They have established that they make bargains only to break them when breaking offers a chance of profit. Every successful trick they have played upon the credulity of other governments they have made a basis for fresh designs and new treacheries. Europe will never be at peace while they hold power. And there is "scant immediate prospect" that Germany is yet prepared to oust the trickster and put men in their places with whom it would be possible to deal in good faith.

The TCA Going Strong

TCA planes have been flying between Montreal and Vancouver, and on connecting lines for a year, without a fatality or a serious accident. The record is one in which the pilots and all who are connected with the operation of the system must take pride, and which will be in the highest degree gratifying to the public. It has been shown, if there were doubters, that it is entirely practicable to maintain a trans-Canada air service the year round, with remarkable regularity and maximum of safety.

While the service has been regular, it has not been invariably so. The planes have arrived and departed on scheduled time as the seldom broken rule. But there have been times when flights were delayed, and a few occasions when flights were cancelled, because of weather conditions. These exceptions have increased, not lessened, the popularity of the service. They established the point that safety comes before schedules; and however anxious passengers may be to save time the majority do not want to try to save it by defying the elements.

The anniversary of the system was marked on Monday by the doubling of the service on the main route. Hereafter two planes per day will fly their way in each direction between Vancouver and Montreal. The time saved and the comfort provided for passengers do not altogether account for the growth of business demanding this hundred per cent increase in carriers. The fact that "safety first" is the operating motto also had something to do with it; probably had a good deal to do with it.

Molotoff's Good-Will Gesture

Comrade Molotoff has noted that among Allied peoples a measure of "hostility" toward Russia was aroused by the brutal onslaught on Finland. He took the air the other day with a desire to allay these hard feelings and bid for a resumption of cordiality between the Soviet Union and the Allied powers. The Foreign Commissar seemed to be quite pains that the Finnish incident should have stirred up resentment in Britain and France, and hopeful that since the bloody business is ended the mantle of Christian charity will be allowed to cover the crime.

Railways Do Better

It is not often that Canada gets an opportunity to be optimistic about her transportation problem, but there is an opportunity, this year. The annual report of the Canadian National railway, issued recently, gives the most favorable figures in nearly a decade.

This report, coupled with the improved condition of Canadian Pacific affairs, should be credits not only to the Canadian Government, but to the Canadian people. According to the Canadian National report comes a forecast, on the part of the railway authorities, of further improvement next year.

BY FRED WILLIAMS

One hundred years ago today (April 2, 1840) the people of the then small city of Toronto staged an impromptu demonstration of loyalty. A mail had just arrived from England bringing the news that Queen Victoria had been married to Prince Albert of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha. Feb. 25, 1840.

Alberta this morning, the news of the League of Nations, and much less censure for other parts of the peace settlement.

At the peace conference, Lloyd George once again defied in flinging and unforgettable pinches the political faith he cherishes. He is a man who has lost his sense of the fundamental instinct of human nature—to do inertia. If left to himself, would do nothing. A tired nation is always a Tired nation. Liberalism would break the ground for him, but he is too tired to do that.

He did it with an earthquake.

The example of Russia shows that by that method you only litter the ground with the debris of a destroyed generation.

This belief in action is the only way to do it. He is a man who is not afraid to do it. He is the only first-class mind in British public life to compete with Winston Churchill for the mastery of the House of Commons.

Women Engineers Promised Big Place In War Effort

LONDON, April 2.—Immense opportunities for women workers in the present war effort are to be had by English women, minister of labor at the 21st birthday celebration of the Women's Engineering Society here.

This in existence—only one of its kind in existence—was founded in 1919 by Mrs. E. G. Blythe, wife of Sir Charles Parsons, the great engineer.

Miss Marjorie Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Graham, who is attending Alma Mater, the University of Cambridge, was in the city for the Easter holidays at Miami Beach, Florida.

There is a streak of the barbarian in us all so far as colors and clothes go. We are strongly drawn to bright colors and to gay, gay clothes. This might be called a "suprise" and it is a "suprise" to many of persons who do not like to wear a lot of color.

It will make a picture, a picture of a woman in many ways, to wear a lot of color. They will be many who will be happy for the next few weeks.

Members of the society are: Miss Marjorie Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Graham, who is attending Alma Mater, the University of Cambridge, was in the city for the Easter holidays at Miami Beach, Florida.

Mr. Brown replied: "I would make a short statement and say that there will be a lot of work for women engineers in the war effort, but the precise extent of the figures will be determined by industry in the U.S.A. and Canada."

Mr. Brown said: "I have spent time in the depths of coal mines teaching how to improve mine lighting. Mrs. Douglas was big on safety, and she was a great help to me. I am still a member of the A.T.A. and I am still working."

The Queen said: "A message which I have received from the Queen which all women possess of domestic matters should give the members a special aptitude for applying science to the problems of better housekeeping."
